Even if the 13,820,000 bales estimated by the Department of Agriculture is shown the outlook season was a surplus of a surplus by the Department of Agriculture is shown the outlook seems very good, as spinners have been buying freely here and abroad According to Liverpool cables, most of the recent heavy sales of spot cotton, which have totailed close to 50,000 bales so far this week, have been on account of spinners calling cotton. There has been a revival of buying for export in some Southern maticets, while domestic mills will have to buy heavily if the present activity in the retail cotton goods trade continues. Mills have been in the market findia's outlook is good. Europe has seeded continues. Mills have been in the market on nearly all of the recent declines. As far as can be ascertained from all sources, an outlook for a crop of 13,820,000 bales 1,011,000,000 bushels, against 743,000,000 last 2,000,000 bushels, against 743,000,000 last 2,000,000 bushels, against 743,000,000 bushels or less still continues to be a bullish factor even though the market has de-clined sharply, claiming that the new crop will be a large one, and that fact should govern although the meagre re-ports regarding preparations for it have not shown that acreage will be much in-The ginning report gave the amount of cotton ginned to January 1 as 12,919,257 bales, counting round bales as halves and OTHER WHEAT MARKETS.

day. May going very close to 93 and closing at an advance of .c. a bushel and July advancing 1 to 11.c., closing at the high of the day. The principal cause of strength was the good inquiry for export in nearly all of the leading markets. Sales for ex-port were made at Duluth, Winnipeg, Montreal, Kansas City and Chicago. It was claimed by leading authorities that American wheat prices are on an export basis. Shorts covered freely. Buying by commission houses was said to have totalled over 2,000,000 bushels. Sales of flour at The cotton market was weak all day Minneapolis were 250,000 barrels since Monday. While there was some realizing, prices did not break from the high more report to January I, the total being larger than expected, even though almost exactly what the National Ginners Association predicted. There was heavy that there would be still higher prices liquidation by tired longs and considerable short selling, but the pressure was everdone and prices recovered somewhat in the afternoon. At the low January hand the afternoon of the propert high and the property high and tralia is handicapped by drought, while India's outlook is good. Europe has seeded her winter wheat under good conditions. Russia's wheat and rye crops aggregate.
